

Residence Halls

2017-18

Life as a Notre Dame undergraduate centers around study, prayer, socializing, and the lasting friendships fostered in the residence halls. The Office of Housing website has provided the following information on the residence halls.

Facilities

- All 30 undergraduate residence halls are located on-campus.
- All residence halls are single-sex; 16 male halls, 14 female halls.
- There are approximately 3,600 residence hall rooms on campus with space for over 6,400 students.
- Only twelve residence halls have air conditioning. Air conditioning is typically operational only in August, September, and May for academic year students.
- Every residence hall has a chapel. Keenan and Stanford Halls share the largest chapel on campus.
- Every residence hall operates on a card reader system. Students swipe their ID card to gain entry to their residence hall 24 hours a day and during designated hours in other residence halls.
- Two new residence halls, Flaherty and Dunne, opened fall 2016.
- Pangborn will be utilized as a swing hall beginning in fall 2016. Residents of halls undergoing a major renovation will reside in Pangborn together as a community while their own hall is renovated.

Resident Facts

- Approximately 80% of undergraduate students live on-campus.
- Most students live in the same residence hall for all four years
- Largest residence halls are Dillon Hall (male, 290) and Lewis Hall (female, 273).

Staff Facts

- Every residence hall is staffed with one Rector, 2 Assistant Rectors, and 4-9 Resident Assistants.
- Over 26 priest and brothers (mostly C.S.C. priests) live in-residence at 21 different residence halls.
- Lyons hall is host to a Faculty-in-Residence program.

Assignment Facts

- Residence hall assignments are made on a random basis, generated by computer.
- First-Year student (freshmen) room and roommate assignments are available in mid to late July.
- Freshmen are required to live on-campus.
- Transfer students are placed on a waiting list after they have confirmed their enrollment - housing is not guaranteed for transfer students.
- Special roommate/hall requests from incoming students are not accepted.
- The only cost differential between room types is single vs. multiple occupancy.

Community Life Facts

- Every residence hall has a chapel where weekly Mass is held.
- Every residence hall fields a variety of intramural sports teams, including: full contact football (men), flag football (women), basketball, soccer, hockey, cross country, and much more. Visit RecSports for more information.
- Every residence hall is represented in Student Government with one elected senator
