

Accessing Student Information

Overview

Admitted student data is provided to the main admissions volunteer in the club. This data is to be used by the volunteer and their committees to assist the University in yield efforts. Common uses of the data include phone calls, emails, and invitations for admitted student receptions. Note: A confidentiality statement must be signed before the volunteer accesses the data. You will be prompted to complete this on an annual basis through the admissions volunteer portal.

Data for admitted students will be available soon after applicants are notified of their decisions. You will be notified via email when the student data is available.

From December through May, the students on your list will be based on the address of where the student attends high school. In June, the list will be updated based on the student's home address.

Accessing Student Data

Admitted student data will be available through the admissions volunteer portal.

You will be able to view admitted first-year students, confirmed transfer students, and students who have been offered and/or accepted the offer of the Gateway program.

Status

Throughout the cycle, you may see the following status notifications for the students in your area:

- Admit = admitted student
- Confirm admit = they plan to attend ND in the fall

- Cancel from admit = admitted, but have chosen not to attend ND
- Cancel from Confirm = student confirmed, but has decided not to attend ND

The decision has been made to not include students who were denied admission to Notre Dame in the information we provide to AVCs. After further conversation within our office, we have decided that students and their families may not want a personal moment like this shared with others. This allows you to stay focused exclusively on helping us enroll the admitted students in your area.
